SchoolNet Secures $12.5 Million in Financing

Capital Strengthens Balance Sheet for Continued Investment and Acquisitions

NEW YORK, NY – May 5, 2008 – Today SchoolNet, Inc., the nation's leader in Data-Driven Decision Making for K-12 school districts announced the completion of $12.5 million in financing. This financing includes a combination of equity and term debt from Velocity Financial Group, TriplePoint Capital and the New York City Investment Fund (NYCIF).

SchoolNet is the leader in Instructional Management solutions for K-12 school districts and connected learning communities. For over 10 years, SchoolNet has enjoyed strong revenue and consistent market growth, attracting high quality investors who are confident in the future of the products it provides the nation's school districts. This funding will further SchoolNet's vision of improving the world's education systems by using data to increase academic achievement.

"We are excited to receive support from such visionary financial partners," said Jonathan D. Harber, CEO, SchoolNet. "The funds will allow SchoolNet to impact even more students and teachers across the nation. We are in a strong position to expand our district partners and look for potential acquisitions to further our reach."

"With the recent increases in federal and social mandates for improved academic reporting and transparency, SchoolNet solves a very real pain point for K-12 districts," said Jan Haas, President and Co-Founder of Velocity Financial Group. "We are pleased to support SchoolNet's efforts with a facility that complements the company's strong team and growth trajectory."

Bill Long, Managing Director, TriplePoint Capital commented: "We are thrilled to be involved with SchoolNet, as they have built a growing company whose solutions make a positive impact on the nation's schools. TriplePoint Capital is pleased to provide flexible debt financing solutions for excellent companies like SchoolNet."

"SchoolNet is helping school systems across the country improve the quality of education by giving them tools to improve efficiency and accountability. We're pleased to continue to support them in their efforts," said Maria Gotsch, President and CEO of the New York City Investment Fund.

Every day students, parents, teachers, and administrators use SchoolNet to access important data, enabling district-wide, collaborative decision making. SchoolNet's customers educate more than two million students in over 50 school districts. SchoolNet's Instructional Management Suite help districts manage reporting, curriculum deployment, benchmark assessment, professional development, district-wide communication and parent outreach.
